

SCENERY READY FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Stage Will be Beautified by Richly Colored Paintings by Alpha Cox and John Bartlett.

SCENES ALONG RHINE RIVER

Work Done in Water Colors and Has Been Highly Complimented—Seventeen Panels.

The Seymour chautauqua will have the distinction of being the first in Southern Indiana to have a complete stage equipment. Usually little attention is given to stage settings other than adequate footlights, but the local committee decided that Seymour should go one step farther and have a complete stage, arranged in the same manner as in a theater. This will greatly add to the beauty of the platform and will be a pleasing feature for the entertainers, many of whom are compelled to appear under unfavorable circumstances in many places.

The stage will be protected with a substantial roof and will be water proof. The scenery was painted by Alpha Cox and John Bartlett and is certainly complimentary to their ability along this line. It consists of seventeen pieces and when in place represents an interior view, picturing scenes along the Rhine River.

A balustrade effect will be given by the large panels at the rear of the stage. The side panels or wings have been painted to carry out the interior view which is beautified by the richly draped top panels or "flies." The scenery when arranged presents an attractive view overlooking the Rhine River. The work is done in water colors which blend beautifully. The light blue of the quiet river will have a very pleasing effect in contrast to the brown of the drapery under the glare of the electric lights.

Mr. Cox and Mr. Bartlett have been at work on the scenery for several weeks. Having done considerable work of this kind, Mr. Bartlett knew what should be done and with the assistance of Mr. Cox the attractive design was selected. Mr. Bartlett recently furnished the scenery for a new theater at Vincennes and received very favorable comment on the views and the attractive manner in which they were painted. The scenery has been painted with the view of using it in the future for chautauqua assemblies.

The plans for the chautauqua are rapidly being completed and the prospects are most encouraging for a large crowd. The session will open in less than two months and in the interim the committee will find a large amount of work to be done. The Redpath Lyceum Bureau, who will furnish the entertainments, have written that the program as announced will be carried out. All the talent will be here on scheduled time.

The ticket sale is increasing as the time of the entertainment approaches and a good number of season tickets have been engaged. A number of girls have volunteered to sell tickets for the assembly and in order to stimulate their interest prizes have been

MERCHANTS ARE FAVORABLE TO FALL ENTERTAINMENT

Merchants Association Consider Flying Machine Proposition at Meeting Monday Night.

The Merchants Association had a proposition for a flying machine entertainment up for consideration at the regular meeting Monday evening. Mr. Marks, of Chicago, who was proposing to put on the exhibition wanted to arrange for an exhibit next week. The merchants thought that the time to arrange for the flight would be too short to make it worth while for the local people to secure the benefits which they should from the advertisement which the exhibit would bring to Seymour.

There was a very general feeling however that we should have some form of public entertainment here this fall in addition to the chautauqua which will bring people to our city, and show them that we want them here and are ready to meet them with a glad hand at all times. Other towns and cities over Indiana are doing various things which attract people to them and indirectly the towns profit by the kindly feeling which springs up, and the increased trade which comes as a result.

Barn Burned.

About 11:30 Saturday night John H. Mellonecamp's barn near Youtsey's hill was found to be on fire, though no cause has been assigned for it. In addition to the barn, the fire destroyed other outbuildings including a hen house. In the barn were farm implements, a buggy, surrey, wagon and some hay. A calf was burned to death, and one of Mr. Mellonecamp's horses is thought to be injured some. The loss on the buildings will amount to about $400, and the loss on contents about $600, making a total loss of about $1,000, which was partly covered by insurance.

Planning a Hike.

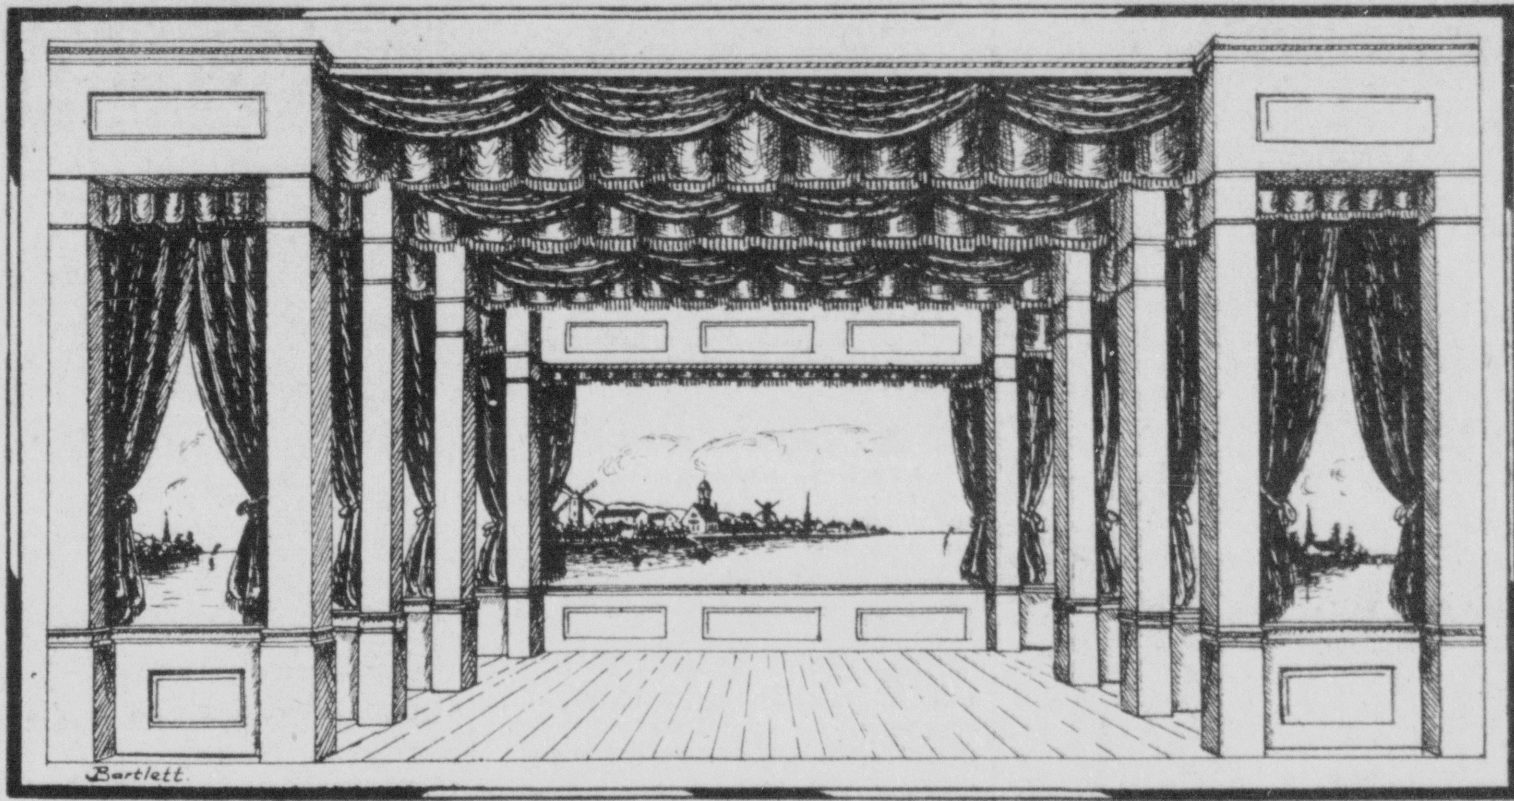

The Boy Scouts are planning a "hike" which they will take sometime in the near future. They plan to go to some suitable point five or six miles out, and picnic in the grove or woods, then return at night. The trip will be made on foot, and will bring into service some of the purposes of the Scout movement. The plans are under the direction of Prof. Thurber, who has charge of this work during the summer.

Myers Property Sold.

The old Myers property on Myers street was sold this afternoon at public auction to Charles Leininger. The property was owned by John Gunion and the sale was conducted by the Orin Jessup Land Co., of Atlanta, Ind. There was a fair crowd at the sale and the bidding was somewhat spirited. The two story house and two adjoining lots sold for $665. Mr. Leininger who purchased it will repair it and put it on good condition.

Chief Able has received notice from Indianapolis again concerning another horse that had been stolen there. Horse stealing seems to be on the increase again, and may call for the reorganization of some of the old time horse thief detective associations which a few years ago put almost an end to the stealing of horses in Indiana.

Perry Little was arrested just before noon today and lodged in jail charged with intoxication. He was arrested at the corner of O'Brien and High streets. He was tried before Mayor Swope this afternoon.

BARBER HAS DISAPPEARED LEAVING UNPAID $25 FINE

Frank Weber Takes Sudden Leave From City and Forgets to Note Forwarding Address.

Frank Weber, a barber, has disappeared, leaving an unpaid fine of $25 in the police court. It is believed that he left the city Sunday night as he has not been seen since that time. Mrs. Weber, it is believed, left with him. They were rooming at Mrs. Sewell's residence on West Second street and lost some of the furniture in the fire there a week ago.

Weber was in some trouble here a few weeks ago when he borrowed a shot gun from Chester Miller for the purpose of going hunting. He later sold the gun to Gail Hopewell for $10. After disposing of the gun, Weber left the city and for several days could not be found. Later he reappeared and pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined. He was sentenced to one day in jail, but this was suspended. Mr. Hopewell learned that the gun belonged to Chester Miller and returned it to him.

Weber had no money to pay his fine and it was agreed that he should pay the Mayor $5 per week until the entire amount was settled. He had been employed by A. B. Shutts and the latter agreed to permit him to hold his position until the fine was paid. Saturday night Mr. Shutts withheld $5 of the amount. Monday morning the shop key was found on the inside and the tools belonging to Weber were gone. He came here from Louisville and said his home was at Frankfort.

PARCEL POST TO SOLVE FOOD COST

High Cost of Living Problem Will be Forgotten if Proposed Plan is Successful.

FROM FARMER TO CONSUMER

Increased Weight Limit and Lower Charges Will Bring Farm to Urban Centers.

Jackson county farmers may have an opportunity to sell their products directly to the consumers in the larger cities, if the proposed parcel post plan proves a success. It is proposed to increase the weight limit from eleven to twenty or twenty-five pounds with a lower transportation rate.

The idea is set forth in the Washington dispatch given below:

With the hope of doubling the package traffic, the postmaster-general and his assistants are getting ready to make some important changes in the parcel post regulations. The purpose is to stimulate traffic between populous centers and their suburban and farming territory. It is contended that if the weight limit is raised to twenty or twenty-five pounds and a low rate of 3 or 5 cents the first pound and 1/2 cent for each subsequent pound is established, it will encourage trucksters and farmers to ship to the city kitchen farm produce in mail market baskets.

A movement of this kind, it is declared, will eventually result in a material reduction of the cost of living in the cities. Table necessities which grow on the farm can be bought from one-half to one-third less at the center of production than they can in the city. It is understood that the first zone may be enlarged from fifty to from 150 to 200 miles.

Under the parcel post act the postmaster-general, with the approval of the interstate commerce commission, has the authority to make far-reaching changes in the rates, zones and weight limits. It is understood that plans for important changes in the

Around the Railroads.

Shop Force Reduced.

Between one hundred and one hundred and fifty workmen were furloughed at the B. & O. Southwestern shops at Washington yesterday. The exact number is not known yet and will not be known until Tuesday. Another cut in the shop allowance for this month made the cut in the working force absolutely necessary. The cut affected all branches of work in both the locomotive and car departments. About seven hundred men are still working. Shop officials have no idea how long the present conditions will last but it is said it will likely be two or three months before the shops will be back to normal conditions.

It is generally believed that the great financial loss sustained by the railway company because of the floods last spring is responsible for the company's action in reducing the force of workmen.

Missouri Passes Invalid.

All passes of free transportation over Missouri railroads, except passes held by certain classes exempted by the new utilities law, became invalid on July 31, according to a decision rendered by Judge John Kenish, member of the State Public Service Commission. This ruling applies to passes which may be held by former directors or officers of a railroad; to persons who received them in consideration for land for right-of-way purposes; to persons who took them in lieu of money damages for personal injuries, and to all passes held by anybody except the classes of persons exempted by the law.

To Test Iowa Rate Law.

Railroads operating throughout Iowa have decided to contest the validity of the law passed at the last session of the Legislature of that state, which provides that a fare of 1 1/2 cents a mile in each direction shall be the maximum charge for the transportation of passengers to county fairs and all other gatherings where the attendance is 75,000 or more.

Oppose Bill.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen have recorded their opposition to Senator Sutherland's workingmen's compensation bill. The bill has been taken up by the committee at New York and is receiving attention at the conference now in progress.

ARBITRATION BILL WILL BE PASSED

Railroad Trainmen and Managers Agree on Plan by Which Arbitration is to be Accepted.

PRESIDENT WILL NAME BOARD

Local Men Leave New York Tonight, But General Chairmen Remain Awaiting Passage of Bill.

A message from George Hopewell, who is in New York representing the O. R. C. of the Southeastern Line at the strike conference, states that the local men are leaving New York this evening for their homes, but that the general chairmen are staying with the grand officers for further conference concerning the wage situation, and awaiting the action of Congress which will probably pass the Newlands bill today amending the Erdman act in a manner that has been agreed upon as satisfactory to both parties in the present controversy.

A dispatch from Washington at noon today says that the house judiciary committee at an early meeting today agreed to the Newlands bill for amending the Erdman act in a manner satisfactory to the railroads and their employees. Chairman Clayton called the bill up for passage when the house met at noon.

The bill will create the United States board of mediation and conciliation, to be composed of a commissioner of mediation and conciliation, appointed by the President with the consent of the senate, with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years, and not more than two other officials of the government, already appointed by the President, with the consent of the senate, who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board. There also would be an assistant commissioner, with a salary of $5,000, authorized to act in the commissioner's absence. For the settlement of controversies as they might arise, the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three, to be selected with the help of the board of mediation and conciliation wherever necessary. The latter board would pass on any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

President Wilson expressed his gratification after the conference that an agreement had been reached on the disputed points. He declared that, while the Erdman act originally contemplated a controversy between a single railroad and its employees, the scope had now been widened so as to deal with a series of railroads. He referred to the suggestions made as "just and reasonable," and saw no reason, he said, why the congress should not act on them now to prevent a great inconvenience and perhaps a disastrous situation for the carrying business of the country.

The President said he would name the new commission as quickly as possible, and that the contending parties had assured him that they would await legislative action.

FOUND WAY OUT OF DIFFICULTY

Congress Will Provide Means of Averting Strike.

WILL AMEND THE ERDMAN ACT

By the Adoption of an Amendment to the Conciliation Law, the Drawback Which Heretofore Has Prevented Employees and Managers of Eastern Roads Getting Together on an Amicable Adjustment, Will Be Removed.

Washington, July 15.—There will be no strike of the 100,000 operatives on the railroads east of Chicago, so long predicted. This has been assured as the result of the White House conference attended by President Wilson, leaders of congress and representatives of the railroads and of the conductors and trainmen who had voted to walk out. At this gathering arrangements were perfected for the passage by congress at once of the Newlands amendment to the Erdman act under which both sides to the pending controversy are willing to submit to arbitration. Assurances were given at the conference that this course would be followed.

Under the Newlands bill a board of mediation will be created which shall be entirely independent of the department of labor. Under the bill also the board of arbitration to be chosen when efforts of mediation and conciliation fail shall consist of six instead of three members, as at present. Two members of this board are to be named by the labor organizations interested, two by the railroads and two by the four arbitrators thus chosen. In the event, however, that they are unable to agree on the two remaining members, the board of mediation is authorized to select these two. The power of naming these two members gives to the board of mediation its chief importance. Both sides had refused to arbitrate under the Erdman law in its present form, taking the ground that the present law does not provide for an adequate representation of employers and employees. The railroads objected chiefly to the head of the bureau of labor statistics in the department of labor being one of the mediators, and on this point the railroads had their way, although representatives of the labor unions themselves showed no disposition to urge this point.

This mediation board, under the amendment to be adopted, will consist of a commissioner of mediation to be appointed by the president and to head the board, and two government officials who have been appointed to office by the president with the advice and consent of the senate. These government officials are to be designated by the president, and the legislation puts no limitation upon their selection, save that they are to be officials of the United States government. The present Erdman law names the United States commissioner of labor and the presiding judge of the United States commerce court as the board of mediation. Under the amended bill the presiding commissioner of mediation is to receive a salary of $7,500 a year and to serve seven years. This means that President Wilson, in order to meet the present emergency, will have to make quick selections, not only of the new commissioner of mediation, but of the two government officials who shall serve with him on the board.

The conference assembled at the White House was the most important gathering of its kind since the conference called by President Roosevelt back in the days of the anthracite strike. In some respects the "stakes" were greater in this than in the anthracite conference.

THE BRITISH VIEW OF IT

Sir Edward Gray Has a Word About the Balkan War.

London, July 15.—In the house of commons last night Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, said, in regard to the Turkish advance: "We are assured that it is the intention of the Ottoman government only to occupy the territory to the boundary line which was agreed on in the treaty of peace signed by the Balkan states with Turkey. Up to the present no exception has been taken to this action by Turkey."

"The best prospect which I can put before the house is that the war which is now proceeding is so horrible and exhausting that it should not last long. Its mere intensity should bring it to a close. I see every prospect of the powers continuing in touch with each other to overcome any complications in the future as they have done up to the present time."

ELECTRICAL STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Reports of Heavy Loss Over Wide Territory.

Chicago, July 15.—One of the worst electrical storms witnessed in years caused heavy damage throughout northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin last night. Miles of telegraph and telephone wires were levelled to the ground, small craft on Lake Michigan suffered heavily, and railroad traffic was seriously impaired. Estimates of the damage run close up to $1,000,000.

In Chicago a score or more of residences were struck by lightning, many business houses in the downtown district were flooded, and much damage done to trees and shrubbery. Evanston and other towns on the north shore also suffered heavily.

In the city of Milwaukee heavy damage was done. Racine and Appleton also suffered to considerable extent, half a dozen buildings, including a church, being demolished in Racine.

Considerable anxiety was felt among local yachtsmen for the safety of the fleet of racing yachts which left Milwaukee in the afternoon for Harbor Springs, Mich., across the lake. Hope for the safety of the fleet is based on the fact that the storm was more electrical than windy. There are more than a dozen yachts in the fleet.

TRIED TO GIVE AWAY LETTERS

Colonel Mulhall Tells Senate Committee All About It.

HE HAD DIFFICULTY AT FIRST

It Would Seem That in the Beginning of His Remarkable Campaign of Publicity of the Political Activities of the Manufacturers' Association, the Veteran Lobbyist Failed to Get the Ready Hearing He Had Expected.

Washington, July 15.—The regular course of his examination before the lobby investigators was interrupted by Colonel M. M. Mulhall long enough to swear that for the last two months he has striven to give away without thought of compensation the letters and other documentary evidence of his career as a special agent of the National Association of Manufacturers. The generous colonel was willing to get rid of these papers, but he was disappointed that he could not interest the magazines in them. In substantiation of this he produced and had read a letter dated Baltimore, May 16, addressed to Perriton Maxwell, editor of Hearst's Magazine, New York, in which he says he could not understand why the Hearst people would not give the publicity he had been asking for certain documents in his possession. He added: "As I told you in my last interview, I am not seeking a monetary consideration from your people for the effort I am making, and I have explained to you in all the interviews I have had with you my reason for leaving the organization that employed me for the last ten years was on account of the crooked work they drifted into."

"I thought I could be of great service to Mr. Hearst and to the people through him by turning over these papers, so I am still hoping that I may have the pleasure of a hearing with Mr. Hearst upon this subject."

A copy of the contract entered into with Richard Barry by Mulhall for the sale of the political letters possessed by Colonel Mulhall to such newspapers, magazines or publications as he might choose was in circulation in the hearing room. It provided that the proceeds from the sale of these letters were to be shared, share and share alike, by the said Mulhall and Barry; that Mulhall was to receive 50 per cent of the proceeds and Barry 50 per cent.

"Afterward you did sell them to the New York World?"

"I have letters to show that I did not sell them," announced the colonel with some heat.

"I say I did not sell them," this more vehemently. "I fell into the hands of a gentleman that came over to look over these papers for Mr. Hearst, a gentleman by the name of Barry, who I have since learned is what they call a newspaper tipster."

After he gave the papers to the World, Mr. Barry came to him and wanted him to break the contract with the World, said Mulhall, and, continued the colonel, Barry said in the presence of other witnesses that he could get at least $150,000 for those letters from the National Association of Manufacturers. Witness told Mr. Barry that the letters were not for sale in that way and that there was no black-mail connected with those letters in any shape, manner or form; that the N. A. M. did not have money enough to buy them.

The day's review of the correspondence was brought down to 1907, when Marshall Cushing severed his connection with the N. A. M.

Asked by Senator Reed as to why Marshall Cushing had left the N. A. M. employ, Mulhall said:

"He resented the inquisitions on the part of President VanCleave as to what he did with the money received from the association for political purposes."

In the course of the day's proceedings more than 500 letters of the Mulhall correspondence were reviewed.

THRILLING TALE OF THEIR EXPERIENCES

Railway Passengers Caught in Grasp of Cloudburst.

Marietta, O., July 15.—Assuming the proportions of the one in March, a flood holds this vicinity in its grasp. The entire valley is under water, the Muskingum river and Duck creek being out of their banks, following a cloudburst near Zanesville.

A Pennsylvania passenger train was marooned at Stanleyville, seven miles from Marietta, on Duck creek. The waters rose at an alarming rate, and it was necessary to remove the twenty-five passengers by cutting holes in the roofs of the cars. They were forced to walk back to this city, across country. They tell a thrilling tale of their experiences.

The water of Duck creek came up on them like a mighty wall, rising five feet within a few minutes and then settling down to a rise of five feet an hour. The fires in the locomotive were drenched before the engineer could reverse his engine and start back. A small boat was used to carry the passengers from the train to high land. When the party left the scene the train had entirely disappeared from view and valuable mail, baggage and express were lost.

Court Will Handle Affairs of Missing Man.

NOTE JUGGLING IS ALLEGED

Joseph E. Moore's Alleged Clever Juggling of Mortgages and Notes Will Run Into the Thousands, It Is Estimated Following Action of Creditors Who Have Thrown Missing Man's Affairs Into Hands of Receiver.

Richmond, Ind., July 15.—O. B. Fulghum has been appointed receiver of the real estate business of Joseph E. Moore, a prominent Richmond man, who mysteriously disappeared last week prior to the exposure of a number of fraudulent transactions he is alleged to have engaged in.

The receiver was appointed as the result of a petition filed by James Morrow, who alleges that Moore owes him more than $1,000. Three suits to recover money alleged to be owed by Moore have been filed and it is reported his alleged fraudulent transactions will amount to thousands of dollars. The number of victims of Moore's alleged clever juggling of mortgages and notes is not yet known.

Mrs. Moore has refused to make a settlement of the claims against her husband, and her attorney is considering the advisability of applying for a guardian for him on the ground that he is mentally unbalanced. No clue as to the whereabouts of the missing man has been obtained.

Vernon's other alleged victim, Mrs. Thomas Jones, with whom he eloped two weeks ago, wrote her husband from Richmond, begging him to come after her. She said that Vernon had threatened her life, and that she was hiding from him. Mr. Jones left for Richmond at once. The police believe that Vernon has obtained practically all of the $1,300 she took away with her.

FULL PARDON GIVEN TO YOUNG BANKERS

President Acts Promptly in Idaho Case.

Washington, July 15.—An unconditional pardon has been granted by the president to Wm. F. Kettenbach, formerly of Indianapolis, over whose head was hanging a five-year sentence in the federal penitentiary. When the president issued this pardon, which was accompanied by a similar pardon for George H. Kester, who also was sentenced to serve five years, he performed what Senator Borah of Idaho characterized as "a rare act of courage."

Kettenbach and Kester, who were president and cashier, respectively, of a bank at Lewistown, Idaho, were indicted for false entries to the controller but neither signed the entries or report and neither was in Lewistown when this was done. They were tried at Boise and sentenced to the minimum sentence of five years each.

The convictions created a furore throughout Idaho, owing to their popularity and the fact that there was not a scintilla of evidence against them. Preachers, civic bodies, commercial organizations, the governor of Idaho and five of his predecessors, the Washington and Oregon senators, the Portland Oregonian and Journal were among the influences that sought their pardon.

To pardon a national banker in advance of his having served a day of his sentence was a proceeding that was without a precedent. Senator Borah said it was the undivided sentiment of Idaho that the young men should be pardoned.

Going to Tell What He Knows.

Evansville, Ind., July 15.—William B. Carleton, state senator, is preparing a lecture on "The Lobby" or "The Trial of Free Institutions," which he expects to deliver in Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky this winter. The lecture will be based largely on information collected at the last two sessions of the Indiana legislature.

A Remington Typewriter == Plus

Here is the machine which will do everything that any typewriter has ever done; which will write straightaway or tabulate, in one or many columns; which will do any tabular work, however intricate, with the speed of ordinary writing;

Which will write and add, and add when it writes, in one column or as many columns as the paper will hold;

Which will subtract as easily as it adds, in all or any columns where adding is done;

Which is a complete billing, tabulating, adding and subtracting machine—all in one;

Which is also a complete auditing machine—accurate itself and exacting accuracy from those who use it, which will detect errors and prevent errors as well;

Which establishes a new standard of time and labor saving in every variety of combined writing and adding work.

system will be submitted to the interstate commerce commission at an early date.

Postmaster-General Burleson has already made several important changes in the parcel post regulations since he has been the head of the postoffice department. One of these which was well received throughout the country, was an order abolishing the distinctive parcel post stamp and making all stamps good for parcel post packages. Mr. Burleson has also begun the collection delivery system, which enables shippers to mail packages and have the postoffice department collect the money and send it to them.

President Wilson and Mr. Burleson desire the parcel post system to be simplified as much as possible during the present administration. They desire also that it be developed gradually until it becomes a postal express system, giving the people a retail package transportation conduct at low rates.

Morris Slemmons, former associate professor of obstetrics at John Hopkins Medical School, and associate physician at John Hopkins Hospital, left here today for California. ## New Receivers on 'Frisco Lines.

St. Louis, Mo., July 15—William C. Nixon and William M. Biddle, successors to B. L. Dinchell in the receivership of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, assumed their new duties today as director of operation and manager of traffic, respectively. Before the receivership they were vice-presidents of the 'Frisco system. Each is serving under a $100,000 bond.

Winchell's New Duties.

Chicago, July 15—B. L. Winchell, former president of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad company, and until recently one of the receivers for that property, today assumed the duties of director of traffic of the Union Pacific System, with headquarters in this city.

Suffragists Ignore Opportunity.

Springfield, Ill., July 15—An election is being held today to select trustees of the park board. A notable observation in connection with the election is that the women of the city, the first to be offered an opportunity to register under the new suffrage law for women, evinced practically no interest in the matter.

Cleveland's Charter Vote.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 15—Voters of this city today are deciding whether they will ratify or reject the home rule city charter, which has been prepared by a special charter commission. The first municipal election under the new charter will be held in November.

Guthrie Ready to Sail.

SCENERY READY FOR CHAUTAUQUA

ordered by the committee to the young ladies selling the largest number.

Local people, who expect to attend the majority of the chautauqua sessions, will find rest tents very convenient. These may be erected on the grounds and will be popular meeting headquarters for companies of friends. Often times persons who attend the sessions regularly desire to rest between the program numbers and find greater freedom in such tents than in the main tent or on the grounds.

Realizing that quite a number might desire to rent such tents, the committee has made arrangements whereby they may be rented for the chautauqua week at moderate prices. Orders may be left at Kessler's Hardware store and all persons wishing to rent such tents are requested to leave their names at once. It will require several days to get them here before the chautauqua opens and some may desire to erect them in advance.

Several parties have made arrangements to use one tent and will share the cost equally. This will give each the accommodations at a small cost. Although no arrangements have been made for sleeping tents at the park, the committee has announced that camping parties may spend the entire week there if they desire. If sufficient tents are rented the grounds will be platted in streets so that they can be erected with some system. Extra police protection will be given at the park at all times during the chautauqua week.

This would be an ideal way to spend a few days' rest and vacation and such a plan will become popular with the growth of the chautauqua. The city park is located well for such an outing and doubtless a number of families will spend the entire week there.

SUBMARINE TESTS

Interest Centers in Trial of New Torpedo Boat.

Washington, July 15—Navy experts are awaiting with interest the results of tests today of the new submarine torpedo boat Thrasher, which are being made off Cape Cod. The trial tests are in charge of a board of experts, who have already predicted great things for the little craft.

The submarine is required to go down 200 feet under the surface of the water, which is the severest test of her trial, and after that she is required to develop a speed of nine knots under the water and 14 knots on the surface.

Grant Wedding Plans.

San Diego, Calif., July 15—Although the wedding plans have been carried on quietly, great interest centers is shown in the marriage of U. S. Grant, Jr., son of Gen. Grant, to Mrs. A. B. Will, a wealthy widow of Marshalltown, Ia., now residing in this city. The ceremony will be performed in a day or two.

This is the second romance of Mr. Grant's life. His first wife was a Miss Chaffee, daughter of a multimillionaire of Denver. She has been dead several years.

Mrs. Will comes from an old Virginia family. She is about 35 years old and has been married twice before. Her first husband left her a large fortune, and Will, who was a successful business man of Marshalltown, added several hundred thousand to her wealth when he died. She has no children.

FIGHT FOR INSURANCE

Fidelity Company Refuses to Pay $20,000 to E. O. Painter's Family.

Baltimore, Md., July 15—The taking of testimony in the proceedings instituted by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company of this city for the appointment of a receiver of the viscera of the late E. O. Painter of Jacksonville, Fla., began today.

Painter lost his life in the St. John's River recently, having fallen overboard during a violent fit of coughing. The company does not think his death natural, while Painter's family is fighting for the payment of the $20,000 accident policy issued by the insurance concern on the late millionaire's life.

An analysis of the organs already made showed no traces of poisons, according to the chemist's report, but the guaranty company is not satisfied because representatives of the company, its attorney declared, were not permitted to witness the examination.

Meanwhile the organs in question have been placed in the safe in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court.
